

Atsuko Maeda

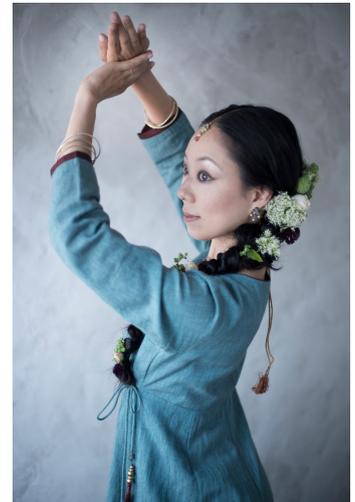

Kathak Dancer, Choreographer,
Director of Kadamb Japan

Atsuko Maeda is one of the very few leading Kathak dancers in Japan. Having been fascinated by the beauty and graceful choreography of Smt. Kumudini Lakhia ji, she was trained at KADAMB (Ahmedabad) since 2005, initially with a scholarship from ICCR, Government of India.

Atsuko has an interest in incorporating Kathak with Japanese traditions, and has created unique choreographic works, such as "Fox Rain" "Amabie Nrityang" and pioneered the concept of "Tokyo Gharana."

Atsuko is the founder and director of Kadamb Japan. In addition to her passion for teaching Kathak in Tokyo, she often performs at international and cultural exchanges between Japan and India.

Atsuko is a Japanese national who has dedicated her life to the beautiful Indian classical dance form Lucknow gharana of "Kathak" . She started Kathak when she was only 6 years old . Her mother was fascinated by the Kathak and wanted her daughter to learn the dance at a tender age. It was under Yakshini Yazawa in Tokyo where she started learning Kathak as a kid. She went on to further develop her skills under guru Pt.Vijay Shankar-ji. She did her first performance at the age of 10 years at Shinjuku Asahiseimei Hall. And when she was 12 years old, she went to India for first time to see the “Kathak Mahotsava” at Kamani hall at New Delhi. The beauty of India amazed her and the world of Kathak she always had a vision for. The trip changed her life altogether in the years ahead. She devoted her life to Kathak ever since.

In 2004, she wanted to see Lucknow by herself. At Lucknow, she meets with Pt. Arjun Mishra -ji's and started taking extensive training of Kathak's which includes basic tukdha, param, abhinaya. It is soon she got a chance to dance at Hyderabad youth festival with Arjun ji and his students.

In 2005, she met Padma Bushan Kumudini Lakhia-ji. Kumudhini-ji, a master and one of the greatest dancer and choreographer of Kathak dance in India. It was under her she started practicing after achieving ICCR scholarship at Ahemedabad in Kadamb, a learning center of Kathak dance founded by Kumudini Lakhia-ji. .

A long journey being already taken, she eventually came back to Tokyo and started performing and teaching kathak in Tokyo.

Different magazines had covered her...."Vogue-Nippon" "anan" etc. to mention a few. She had performed in International exchange festival like Namaste India, Aichi EXPO'05, Indo-Japan friendship year'07, Asian Fes.'08, Sakura Festival and many more. . She takes active interest in choreography by herself and manages concerts, information of the same are available at "Amurut Manthan"" Tokyo gharana" etc.

Her journey with Kathak has started as a child and she visits India every year for the love she had got from India. She is looking forward for many visits to India in the days ahead.
